

Featured Blogger Instructions

The Stage of Life Project (www.stageoflife.com) would like to highlight you as one of our Featured Writers/Bloggers.

Rather than using the “Share Your Story” buttons and tabs found on the site, Featured Bloggers have a unique way to upload essays so their essays get more placements.

How do I upload my Featured Essays/Blogs?

1. Login to site. Go to the life stage your essay is about. Ex) “College”
2. Click on a featured blog (indicated by a crown badge).
3. After clicking on that essay title, you will be on the individual, full page for that current essay. Now...look in the upper left hand corner of that essay page and you will see a “New Topic” icon. Click on it. Type in or cut and paste your essay/blog entry into the Word Editor. Hit “Post” at the bottom of the Word Editor when you’re done. PRESTO. Your essay/blog is now the leading Featured Blog AND on the homepage for Stage of Life in the “Featured Blogger” box.

Featured Bloggers – Writing Rules

- The offer to become a Featured Writer is made by staff invite only.
- Featured Bloggers are the “personalities” and “face” for this project. Please have a profile photo/image uploaded.
- We would love it if you could also take a few moments each week to post comments for people asking questions in your particular stage
- The Stage of Life mission is to create the world’s largest collection of multi-generational stories. Feel free to help spread the word or promote the project. If you have friends and family with their own website or blog, ask if they would link to Stage of Life (to promote you too!).
- Speaking of which, we want to promote our Featured Writers/Bloggers so feel free to include a link back to your blog or in your profile page.
- The content you submit must be original. You are allowed to repost material from your blog, but please alter/tweak it so it makes sense as a stand-alone essay on Stage of Life.
- Keep it clean – no foul language or naughty stuff - but don’t cringe from tackling hard subjects. You can push the envelope, but be professional.
- We may edit your blog if necessary.
- Questions – just shout.
